Level		Your Performance
Listening	(Average)	You have a partial command of the language, and cope with overall meaning in most situations, although you are likely to make many mistakes. You should be able to handle basic communication in your own field.
		Find opportunities to listen to English as much as you can. Focus on simple talks and conversations about familiar topics at first. Listen several times to first get a basic understanding and then fill in any gaps in understanding.
Reading	(Good)	You have an operational command of the language, though with occasional inaccuracies, inappropriate usage and misunderstandings in some situations. Generally you handle complex language well and understand detailed reasoning.
		Read as much as you can on a variety of topics such as academic articles, news reports, opinion pieces. Identify main and supporting ideas and take note of the way the authors structure their writing. Expand your vocabulary by noting down new words and expressions.
Writing	(Average)	You have a partial command of the language, and cope with overall meaning in most situations, although you are likely to make many mistakes. You should be able to handle basic communication in your own field.
		Practice writing daily about your everyday experience and topics you read or heard in the media. Incorporate different types of vocabulary and grammar depending on the topic.
Speaking	(Below average)	Your basic competence is limited to familiar situations. You frequently show problems in understanding and expression. You are not able to use complex language.
		Practice talking about familiar topics such as your daily activities or a new book or movie that you've just watched. Find a conversation partner to talk and get feedback on your speaking. Alternatively, record yourself speaking and play it back, correcting any mistakes you hear.
